

Program: M.A Political Science (M88) –Course wise Mapping

Program Outcomes (POs)

PO1: Develop a critical understanding of political thinkers, ideologies, and fundamental political values.

PO2 : Acquire analytical skills in comparative politics, international relations, and global political issues.

PO3: Demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of governance, public administration, and policy processes.

PO4: Gain insights into Indian political institutions, electoral systems, and democratic practices.

PO5: Apply research, analytical, and field-based methods to study political processes and behavior.

PO6: Cultivate knowledge of human rights, constitutional principles, and democratic values for social justice.

Course: 1. Traditions of Political Thoughts and Comparative Political Analysis (POL501)

Course Outcomes (COs) :

CO1: Students will develop the ability to analyze various political ideologies critically and in a balanced manner by understanding the lives, works, and ideologies of major political thinkers.

CO2: Students will gain a clear understanding of the theoretical and practical aspects of comparative politics.

CO3: They will attain an in-depth understanding of political concepts and development processes.

CO4: They will develop the capacity to critically evaluate the military, violence, and political interventions.

CO5: Students will be able to comprehend the interrelationship between democratic systems, political parties, pressure groups, and social movements.

CO6: Students will develop an understanding of various perspectives within comparative politics.

PO- CO Mapping Table:

Course Outcomes (COs)	PO1	PO2	PO3	PO4	PO5	PO6
CO1: Analyze political ideologies critically by studying thinkers	3	2	1	1	1	2
CO2: Understand theoretical and practical aspects of comparative politics	2	3	1	1	1	1
CO3: Attain in-depth understanding of political concepts and development processes	3	3	2	1	1	1
CO4: Critically evaluate military, violence, and political interventions	1	3	2	1	2	2
CO5: Comprehend interrelationship between democracy, parties, pressure groups, and social movements	2	2	1	3	1	2
CO6: Understand various perspectives within comparative politics	2	3	1	1	1	1

Program: M.A Political Science (M88)

Program Outcomes (POs):

After successful completing Master of Political Science Programme, Students would be able to...

PO1. Develop a critical understanding of political thinkers, ideologies, and fundamental political values.

PO2. Acquire analytical skills in comparative politics, international relations, and global political issues.

PO3. Demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of governance, public administration, and policy processes.

PO4. Gain insights into Indian political institutions, electoral systems, and democratic practices.

PO5. Apply research, analytical, and field-based methods to study political processes and behavior.

PO6. Cultivate knowledge of human rights, constitutional principles, and democratic values for social justice.

Course: 2 Public Administrations and Theory of International Politics (POL502)

Course Outcomes (COs):

CO1: Students will be able to understand the theoretical aspects of administration, public administration, and its evolving nature.

CO2: Students will be able to critically analyze topics such as New Public Management, liberalization-privatization, and administrative corruption.

CO3: They will be able to evaluate major concepts and theories of international politics.

CO4: Students will be able to explain the impact of political changes during and after the Cold War on global relations.

CO5: They will be able to analyze global responses to issues such as human rights, environmental concerns, and terrorism.

CO6: Students will develop a comprehensive understanding of the impact of global systems on women and various feminist perspectives.

PO- CO Mapping Table:

Course Outcomes (COs)	PO1	PO2	PO3	PO4	PO5	PO6
CO1: Understand theoretical aspects of administration and its evolving nature	2	2	3	2	1	1
CO2: Critically analyze NPM, liberalization-privatization, and administrative corruption	2	2	3	2	2	2
CO3: Evaluate major concepts and theories of international politics	2	3	2	2	1	1
CO4: Explain the impact of Cold War changes on global relations	2	3	2	2	1	2
CO5: Analyze global responses to human rights, environment, and terrorism	2	3	2	2	2	3
CO6: Understand the impact of global systems on women and feminist perspectives	2	2	2	2	2	3

Program: M.A Political Science (M88)

Program Outcomes (POs):

PO1: Develop a critical understanding of political thinkers, ideologies, and fundamental political values.

PO2 : Acquire analytical skills in comparative politics, international relations, and global political issues.

PO3: Demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of governance, public administration, and policy processes.

PO4: Gain insights into Indian political institutions, electoral systems, and democratic practices.

PO5: Apply research, analytical, and field-based methods to study political processes and behavior.

PO6: Cultivate knowledge of human rights, constitutional principles, and democratic values for social justice.

Course 3: Political Institutions in India and Public Policy (POL503)

Course Outcomes(COs):

CO1: Students will gain knowledge about democracy, the federal structure, and development policies in post-independence India.

CO2: Students will be able to analyze the working and interrelationships of the President, Prime Minister, and Council of Ministers.

CO3: Students will understand the structure and functioning of the Indian judiciary and will be able to explain key judicial concepts.

CO4: Students will develop an understanding of the nature and functions of institutions like UIDAI, TRAI, and AFSPA.

CO5: Students will understand the definition, nature, objectives, and implementation process of public policy.

CO6: Students will be able to explain the components involved in policy-making, the influence of various groups, perspectives, and their outcomes.

PO- CO Mapping Table:

Course Outcomes (COs)	PO1	PO2	PO3	PO4	PO5	PO6
CO1: Knowledge about democracy, federal structure, and development policies in post-independence India	2	2	2	3	1	2
CO2: Analyze working and interrelationships of President, PM, and Council of Ministers	2	2	3	3	1	1
CO3: Understand structure and functioning of the Indian judiciary and key judicial concepts	2	2	3	3	1	1
CO4: Understand nature and functions of institutions like UIDAI, TRAI, and AFSPA	2	2	3	3	1	1
CO5: Understand definition, nature, objectives, and implementation of public policy	2	2	3	3	2	2
CO6: Explain components in policy-making, influence of groups, perspectives, and outcomes	2	2	3	3	2	2

Program: M.A Political Science (M88)

Program Outcomes (POs):

PO1: Develop a critical understanding of political thinkers, ideologies, and fundamental political values.

PO2 : Acquire analytical skills in comparative politics, international relations, and global political issues.

PO3: Demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of governance, public administration, and policy processes.

PO4: Gain insights into Indian political institutions, electoral systems, and democratic practices.

PO5: Apply research, analytical, and field-based methods to study political processes and behavior.

PO6: Cultivate knowledge of human rights, constitutional principles, and democratic values for social justice.

Course 4 : Political Processes in Maharashtra and Human Rights (POL504)

Course Outcomes(COs) :

CO1: Students will gain an in-depth understanding of the Samyukta Maharashtra Movement, the Non-Brahmin Movement, and the role of the other Political party and movement

CO2: Students will understand the interrelationship and influence of various social and economic factors in Maharashtra's political process.

CO3: Students will be able to study political demands arising from issues like regional imbalance, sub-regionalism, and backwardness.

CO4: Students will be able to analyze the political changes brought about by the empowerment of castes, marginalized groups, and women.

CO5: Students will acquire knowledge of the definition and types of human rights, as well as global and Indian institutions working in this field.

CO6: Students will understand the processes and challenges involved in the protection and implementation of human rights in the context of terrorism, communalism, and globalization.

PO- CO Mapping Table:

Course Outcomes (COs)	PO1	PO2	PO3	PO4	PO5	PO6
CO1: In-depth understanding of Samyukta Maharashtra Movement, Non-Brahmin Movement, and roles of other political parties/movements	3	2	2	3	2	1
CO2: Understand interrelationship and influence of social and economic factors in Maharashtra politics	2	2	2	3	3	1
CO3: Study political demands arising from regional imbalance, sub-regionalism, and backwardness	2	2	2	3	3	1
CO4: Analyze political changes due to empowerment of castes, marginalized groups, and women	3	2	2	3	3	2
CO5: Acquire knowledge of human rights and related institutions	2	2	2	2	2	3
CO6: Understand processes and challenges in human rights protection in context of terrorism, communalism, and globalization	2	2	2	2	3	3

Program: M.A Political Science (M88)

Program Outcomes (POs):

PO1: Develop a critical understanding of political thinkers, ideologies, and fundamental political values.

PO2 : Acquire analytical skills in comparative politics, international relations, and global political issues.

PO3: Demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of governance, public administration, and policy processes.

PO4: Gain insights into Indian political institutions, electoral systems, and democratic practices.

PO5: Apply research, analytical, and field-based methods to study political processes and behavior.

PO6: Cultivate knowledge of human rights, constitutional principles, and democratic values for social justice.

Course 5 : Modern Political Thought and Fundamentals of Political Theory (POL601)

Course Outcomes (COs) :

CO1: Explain the social, economic, and political philosophies of Indian political thinkers like Justice Ranade, Mahatma Gandhi, Pandit Nehru, Dr. Ambedkar, and Dr. Lohia.

CO2: Analyze the role of Indian political thinkers in shaping social reform movements and national development.

CO3: Demonstrate an understanding of fundamental political concepts, types, and the historical evolution of political theories.

CO4: Critically evaluate core political values such as liberty, equality, justice, and rights in different theoretical contexts.

CO5: Interpret the evolution, principles, and functioning of democracy, civil society, and the modern state.

PO- CO Mapping Table:

Course Outcomes (COs)	PO1	PO2	PO3	PO4	PO5	PO6
CO1: Explain social, economic, and political philosophies of Indian thinkers	3	2	2	2	1	2
CO2: Analyze role of Indian thinkers in shaping social reform and national development	3	2	2	2	2	2
CO3: Understand fundamental political concepts, types, and historical evolution of theories	3	2	2	2	2	1
CO4: Critically evaluate core political values like liberty, equality, justice, and rights	3	2	2	2	1	3
CO5: Interpret evolution, principles, and functioning of democracy, civil society, and modern state	3	2	2	3	2	2

Program: M.A Political Science (M88)

Program Outcomes (POs):

PO1: Develop a critical understanding of political thinkers, ideologies, and fundamental political values.

PO2 : Acquire analytical skills in comparative politics, international relations, and global political issues.

PO3: Demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of governance, public administration, and policy processes.

PO4: Gain insights into Indian political institutions, electoral systems, and democratic practices.

PO5: Apply research, analytical, and field-based methods to study political processes and behavior.

PO6: Cultivate knowledge of human rights, constitutional principles, and democratic values for social justice.

Course 6 : Political Sociology and Political Process in India (POL602)

Course Outcomes (COs):

CO1: Explain the foundational concepts, origin, scope, and relevance of Political Sociology.

CO2: Critically evaluate the contributions of Karl Marx, Max Weber, and modern behavioral theorists in the development of political thought.

CO3: Identify and distinguish between various types of political culture and explain the process and agents of political socialization.

CO4: Demonstrate an understanding of political participation and public opinion, including their forms, influencing factors, and significance in democratic systems.

CO5: Analyze the nature of political development and party systems in India, with a focus on electoral politics and inter-party dynamics.

CO6: Assess the impact of casteism, communalism, regionalism, and contemporary social movements on the Indian political landscape.

PO- CO Mapping Table:

Course Outcomes (COs)	PO1	PO2	PO3	PO4	PO5	PO6
CO1: Explain foundational concepts, origin, scope, and relevance of Political Sociology	3	2	2	2	2	2
CO2: Critically evaluate contributions of Marx, Weber, and behavioral theorists	3	3	2	2	1	2
CO3: Identify types of political culture and explain political socialization	2	2	2	2	3	2
CO4: Understand political participation and public opinion	2	3	2	2	3	2
CO5: Analyze political development and party systems in India, focusing on electoral politics	2	3	2	3	3	2
CO6: Assess impact of casteism, communalism, regionalism, and social movements in India	2	2	2	3	3	3

Program: M.A Political Science (M88)

Program Outcomes (POs):

PO1: Develop a critical understanding of political thinkers, ideologies, and fundamental political values.

PO2 : Acquire analytical skills in comparative politics, international relations, and global political issues.

PO3: Demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of governance, public administration, and policy processes.

PO4: Gain insights into Indian political institutions, electoral systems, and democratic practices.

PO5: Apply research, analytical, and field-based methods to study political processes and behavior.

PO6: Cultivate knowledge of human rights, constitutional principles, and democratic values for social justice.

Course 7 : New Trends in World Politics (POL603)

Course Outcomes (COs):

CO1: Identify and critically assess key debates and challenges in global politics, including diplomacy, security, and non-political actors.

CO2: Explain the roles of multinational corporations, global financial institutions, and military power in shaping international relations.

CO3: Evaluate the causes and impacts of major global issues such as terrorism, refugee crises, environmental degradation, and ethnic conflict.

CO4: Interpret the influence of religion, culture, and community on political systems and policy-making processes.

CO5: Analyze concepts of nationalism, social inequality, and identity (gender, caste, ethnicity) in both national and international contexts.

CO6: Demonstrate understanding of global human rights movements and their foundational documents, with a focus on social transformation.

PO- CO Mapping Table:

Course Outcomes (COs)	PO1	PO2	PO3	PO4	PO5	PO6
CO1: Identify and critically assess key debates and challenges in global politics	2	3	2	2	2	2
CO2: Explain roles of multinational corporations, global financial institutions, and military power	2	3	2	2	2	2
CO3: Evaluate causes and impacts of major global issues (terrorism, refugees, environment, ethnic conflict)	2	3	2	2	2	3
CO4: Interpret influence of religion, culture, and community on political systems and policy-making	2	3	2	2	3	2
CO5: Analyze concepts of nationalism, social inequality, and identity in national and international contexts	2	3	2	2	3	2
CO6: Demonstrate understanding of global human rights movements and foundational documents	2	2	2	2	2	3

Program: M.A Political Science (M88)

Program Outcomes (POs):

PO1: Develop a critical understanding of political thinkers, ideologies, and fundamental political values.

PO2 : Acquire analytical skills in comparative politics, international relations, and global political issues.

PO3: Demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of governance, public administration, and policy processes.

PO4: Gain insights into Indian political institutions, electoral systems, and democratic practices.

PO5: Apply research, analytical, and field-based methods to study political processes and behavior.

PO6: Cultivate knowledge of human rights, constitutional principles, and democratic values for social justice.

Course 8: Political Thoughts of Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar and Election studies (POL604)

Course Outcomes (COs):

CO1: Students will gain a clear and in-depth understanding of the structure of the Indian Constitution as envisioned by Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar, including the concepts of social democracy and state socialism.

CO2: Students will be able to analytically study the origin, structure, and consequences of the caste system in Indian society, along with the social inequalities arising from it.

CO3: Students will be able to comprehend and critically analyze Dr. Ambedkar's thoughts on agriculture, industry, economic policies, and religion.

CO4: Students will acquire comprehensive knowledge of the Indian electoral process, the functioning of the Election Commission, the Representation of the People Act, and electoral reforms.

CO5: Students will develop an analytical perspective on the influence of social factors, media, and money in the electoral process.

CO6: Students will be able to use scientific, survey-based, and field study methods to logically analyze democratic processes and electoral behavior.

PO- CO Mapping Table:

Course Outcomes (COs)	PO1	PO2	PO3	PO4	PO5	PO6
CO1: Understand the structure of the Indian Constitution as envisioned by Dr. Ambedkar	3	2	2	3	1	3
CO2: Analyze the origin, structure, and consequences of the caste system and social inequalities	3	2	2	3	2	3
CO3: Comprehend and critically analyze Dr. Ambedkar's thoughts on agriculture, industry, economic policies, and religion	3	2	2	3	2	2
CO4: Acquire knowledge of the Indian electoral process, Election Commission, and electoral reforms	2	2	3	3	2	2
CO5: Develop an analytical perspective on influence of social factors, media, and money in elections	2	2	3	3	3	2
CO6: Use scientific, survey-based, and field methods to analyze democratic processes and electoral behavior	2	2	3	3	3	2

