Agenda 4: Programme Need Assessment on viability and relevance of the program: Though the M.Sc. in Environmental Science Programme was offered earlier according to 2015 pattern the need to revise it and offer Diploma in the same subject arose owing to the following points-

- To improve learning and offer high quality learning
- To add value to existing program by adding updated and novel concepts in Environmental Science
- To prove that such programmes are essential to accomplish the goals set for nation's progress and contribution towards society
- To satisfy learners' needs
- To inculcate research attitude in the learner
- To create entrepreneurs
- To create awareness about various environmental problems
- To develop more of career opportunities the subject area

All the members of PAC unanimously, agreed viability and relevance of this programme for the bright career of the students. Current global issues and its effects on environment and society are needed to be addressed and hence PAC members highlighted need of this programme for the students.

General discussion: An overall discussion of the above agenda and programme assessment need was done briefly with active participation of all members. PAC members appreciated the efforts taken by the School in preparing programme structure and its syllabus. Vote of Thanks was proposed by Chandrashila Gaikwad [Academic co-ordinator Botany]
